DEDICATION

We, the class of 1963, wish to dedicate this yearbook to all who have had faith in us as individuals; to our parents, teachers, and school officials, and to Mr. Howard Hill who assisted us with this annual.

May we justify their faith, patience, understanding, and their dreams for us. Also we wish to thank our friends, the people who live in our town, for coming to our assistance whenever there was need.

The dreams and hopes that we hold for the future have been molded by all of these people. May we go on from here to realize our ambitions both for ourselves and for the people who have faith in us.

CLASS HISTORY

In August, 1951, 32 frightened soldiers entered battle. The battle ground was Pennville High School where they fought their way through studies of passing grades trying to win the victory of graduation. This is a review of the turmoils and struggles that went on. Our leader was Mrs. Carpenter and our general was Mr. Schnar. Those in our regiment were George Brewster, Steve Clevenger, Karen Denney, Jim DeHoff, Joe Dillman, Larry Gilly, Charles Hartman, Lelia Hartman, Dale Hoover, John Horn, Dean Ireland, Buddie Jackson, Douglas Jackson, Robert Johnson, Terry Kessler, Diane Knotts, Yvonne Lewis, Kathleen Mahon, Betty Outcalt, Connie Paxson, Jane Schnar, Gelana Sell, Allen Shuttleworth, Pat Shura, Linda Simons, Kay Stultz, Roy Taylor, Teddy Toland, Dave Watts, Keith Wall, Susie Wappes, and David Wolford.

Those leaving the regiment were Buddie Jackson, Douglas Jackson, Robert Johnson, Terry Kessler, Kathleen Mahon, and Betty Outcalt.

Our second grade teacher was Mrs. Lipp and those gained were Donald Bickel, Ruth Clark, Linda Dean, Barbara Decker, Jack Landers, Max Miller, Mike McMillian, Don Padget, Larry Rigby, Larry Wheatly, and John Pearson. Those lost were Donald Bickel, Ruth Clark, Steve Clevenger, Dale Hoover, Don Padget, Larry Rigby, and Teddy Toland.

Our third grade teacher was Mrs. Hisey. Those gained were Jackie Cline, Mable Lee, Dan McNeil, Jeffery Ogan, Peggy Ogan, and Larry Welch. Lost were Linda Dean, Peggy and Jeffery Ogan. In the fourth grade our teacher was Mrs. Oblinger. We gained nobody and lost Larry Wheatly, Jane Schnar, and Joe Dillman.

In the fifth grade Mrs. Smith was our teacher and our principal became Mr. Addington. This year we gained Howard Crocker, Nancy Hurt, Harry Keen, and Norma Simons. Those lost were Howard Crocker and Nancy Hurt. Our sixth grade teacher was Mr. Cline. We gained Ronnie Claghorn, Harvey DeHoff, Irene Guntle, Jack Hambrock, and Paul Shanneyfelt. Those leaving us were Irene Guntle, Jack Hambrock, Norma Simons, Mable Lee, and Paul Shanneyfelt.

We encountered a new front. Our seventh grade class sponsor was Mr. Rose. Those gained were Clayton Mink, Junior Norris, Joan Ray, Tom Rowles, and Joyce Johnson. In our eighth grade our sponsor was Mr. Hostetler. We gained Dick Huffman and Tom Miller.

We knew we were gaining victory as we entered our freshman year. Our sponsor was Mrs. Paxson and our principal was Mr. Young. We gained Larry Duncan, Betty Miller, and Frank Taylor. We lost Joyce Johnson and Betty Miller. In our sophomore class our principal was Mr. Huber. Those gained were Susie Bolling, Dale Hoover and Christine Johnson. Those lost were Yvonne Lewis and Joan Ray.

Our junior class sponsor was Mr. Hill, principal, Mr. Sharp. We lost Lelia Hartman, Karen Denney, Harry Keen, and Frank Taylor. The battle finally ended as we entered our senior year of school. With the help of Mr. Hill we graduated with the victory banner flying over head.

CLASS PROPHECY

The year is 1982, Diane Knotts and I, Connie Paxson, decided upon a vacation from our jobs as executive secretaries for the Flinging Fabian Enterprises and the Ricky Nelson Studios in Hollywood. Before the trip, we purchased a new, bright red Stingray with the atomic engine designed by that brilliant engineer from M.I.T., Roy Taylor.

We arrived in our former hometown of Pennville, Indiana, late on a rainy evening. We almost drove through without recognizing the town as it had changed so much. New factories and business enterprises had sprung up. On one side of the street was Chris Johnston's Delicatessen and Speciality Shop. Further down the street we discovered Huffman's Hide-away, an exotic nightclub, starring the famous beatnik poet, Charles Hartman. When we went in, he was reading his latest poem, "Ode to a Grecian Pig," and sipping espresso coffee.

On our way to the Airdrome, we stopped at Pearson's service station to purchase isotope fuel for our automobile. The interurban rocket we were going to meet landed; where-upon, the pilot, Captain Norris, came over to speak with us.

Afterwards we visited the new super-strength glass school to see four of our former classmates. We visited the iron-handed principal, David Watts, and the stern English teacher, Pat Shura. Mighty Jim DeHoff, the successful coach, was there as was the art director, Dan McNeil. We learned that one of our classmates had seen service in Japan and had married a Japanese girl. Ronnie Claghorn and his wife live in Tokyo with their eight children. We also discovered that Allen Shuttlesworth and Tom Miller owned an enormous ranch in Texas and that they had found oil.

After leaving the school, we went to the Chic Beauty Salon, owned and operated by Susie Wappes. While we waited, Kay Stultz and her daughter entered. Kay said that she had married Harvey Dehoff, and that he was baby-sitting with their two other children. Picking up the paper, I saw a picture of Dean Ireland. He had designed the automobile of the year, an anti-gravity car, which was guaranteed to surpass thirteen hundred miles per hour. No more fuel worries now!

Looking for some entertainment, we went to the Venus Video Viewer to see the latest hit, "Martian Mash", co-starring Dale Hoover and Clayton Mink. The viewer was sold out so we went to the corner snack bar and there we met a professional wrestler, Larry Welch. There was a record department and we bought all twenty of Gelana Sell's gold records.

Taking a drive the next morning, we passed a 250 acre hydroponic tomato farm. On the farm were a mushroom style home and a solar barn, on which was painted the name, Larry Duncan & Sons. In the afternoon, we went to the Penn Heights Realty Co. Barb Decker, owner, showed us a prospective summer resort area. John Horn, prominent lawyer, handled the transaction for us. Later we went to see Tom Rowles, famed architect, about building a revolving space needle home for Fabian and Ricky.

Late that evening we drove out of Pennville in a reminiscent mood. We were back at our desk the next morning thanks to the new Super-Sky-Freeway designed by Keith Wall.

ACTIVITIES

The High School Band participated in the contest at the Bluffton Street Fair this summer where they came in eighth. They also played in a music festival January 26, 1963 at Portland. At the County Festival, March 28, 1963 they played several numbers. This spring they participated in the Spring Music Festival with the choir and grades singing. The band also entered in solos and ensembles at Fort Wayne and brought home eleven first place medals. They marched and played at our home ball games.

The High School Band is now under the direction of Mr. Howard Hanscom.

This year the 1962-1963 season of the Pep Club is still one of the strongest clubs in school since its first organization. The cheerleaders, Sandra, Thelma, Kay, Pam, Faye, Denise, along with the other students in the club encouraged loyalty and helped to boost the school spirit. We would like to thank Miss Mattie Gibson, their sponsor, for helping them through the past season.
